- Maths clubs are dedicated extra-curricular maths get-togethers that breathe new life into maths beyond the classroom. They come in all shapes and sizes and there is no one model that works for every school. However, they all focus on two things: having fun with maths and learning.
- You'll be amazed at how many ideas for maths club activities there are to choose from: maths games, puzzles, quizzes, codebreaking, maths investigations, maths trails, general problem solving, blogging, podcasting and videoconferencing.
- Mathematics provides an effective way of building mental discipline and encourages logical reasoning and mental rigor. In addition, mathematical knowledge plays a crucial role in understanding the contents of other school subjects such as science, social studies, and even music and art.
- Maths club is an organization of students interested in promoting mathematics in the campus. It is a student initiated and teacher supported academic group dedicated to serve the needs and interests of all students interested in mathematics.
- A mathematical expression called an objective function. The objective function and the constraints placed upon the problem must be deterministic and able to be expressed in linear form.

English clubs serve an important function in allowing participants to use and practice English in an informal setting. Wherever they take place, they are sure to attract those that are excited to share stories, inspirations, and opinions while speaking English.

Readers, members, and leaders. Each section is divided into four or more weeks of activities that will lead to thoughtful discussions during English Club meetings. For each topic, a brief introduction provides background information, followed by a skit and a simulated interview. Finally, participants will be guided through a series of questions to visualize and create positive changes in their communities. While the manuals do not focus on teaching English, all sections include some vocabulary and commonly used phrases. Participants may also find that their ability to have conversations in English will improve.

As English ,the lingua franca, has gained the status of an international language it is imperative to enhance communicative skills in English. We adopt a communicative approach for the enhancement of speaking skills of the students in the class. The literary club of the school /college/university conducted activities with not only the primary aim to enhance the communicative skills of the students but also to identify the problems of the students who are structurally competent in writing but cannot communicate appropriately. The following activities were conducted for various Departments :- CSE,EEE&ECE.

1. To facilitate students to understand, design and learn Robotics.
2. Provide interested students with opportunities to express their skills, knowledge, and creativity through conceptualizing, designing, and programming robots.
3. Brining latest technologies in automation and manufacturing sectors
4. Firsthand experience on industrial robots for the students

As students learn to build robots, they also learn how to code, grasp a solid foundation of math and science, and also build collaborative and leadership skills. These are all the necessary ingredients for a highly successful future career, especially if they want to pursue STEM.

The robotics club activities will be testing their problem-solving skills by giving them a tricky question while taking apart from a robot and making it work despite that, which builds creativity in kids and also enhance their problem-solving skills in general.

Robotics provides your students with exposure to other essential STEAM experiences. Many robotics require some basic coding knowledge and computer programming skills, so students can utilize these skills to have robots complete specific tasks.

In addition to improving computational thinking, robots in education are designed to help develop other cognitive skills in children and adolescents, such as: Learning from mistakes. Understanding that mistakes are not conclusive and always provide opportunities to come to new conclusions. Teamwork

The Conference Committee runs the conference. They hold meetings as needed to ensure that the conference is on track and report to the sponsoring organization. Most conferences have at least a Proceedings Chair and Finance Chair/Treasurer. Conferences often set up by committees for specific functions.

Organizing committees are also responsible for:

- Selecting the venue in advance of the event and ensure that it's properly set up and the registration goes smoothly on event day
- Selecting and coordinating with food, beverage, technology, and decor vendors, and create and maintain the event budget
- Marketing the event by:
 - Establishing the branding
 - Creating communications materials
 - Alerting the media and field about the event
 - Managing social media alerts and media releases.
- A conference committee is a temporary, ad hoc panel composed of House and Senate conferees formed for the purpose of reconciling differences in legislation that has passed both chambers. Conference committees are usually convened to resolve bicameral differences on major or controversial legislation.

Committees may delegate some of these responsibilities to staff or sub-committees, however the committee will always remain accountable for them.

- Giving Direction to the Organisations. ...
- Managing People. ...
- Accountability. ...
- Adherence to the Constitution. ...
- Managing Money. ...
- Effective Committee Functioning.
